Branson seeks public input on comprehensive plan

July 15, 2010

Branson officials are creating a comprehensive plan and they want input from the public.

The comprehensive plan will guide the development and growth of the city and address future needs of residents and businesses.

A 15-member steering committee was appointed by the board of aldermen to develop the plan with Design Workshop, of Denver, Colo.

However, the city is looking for input from residents, tourists and other stakeholders.

To take a survey and to learn more about the comprehensive plan process, visit www.bransoncompplan.com.

There will also be an informal open house from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Aug. 12 at the Branson Convention Center in the Cooper Creek Room. There, the public can attend and learn more about the plan.

The advertisement features the USA TODAY logo at the top left, followed by the word "AutoPilot" in a large, bold, black font. To the right of "AutoPilot" is a blue airplane icon. Below the title, a smartphone is shown displaying the app's interface, which includes a "USA TODAY Meeting" section with a date "Sep 21, 2009", a flight status "A6 BNA to IAD Landed 09/21/2009 11:48 AM", and weather information "73° Washington (IAD) Partly Cloudy". There are also links to "View a Flickr gallery of Washington" and "Articles: Hotel Check in Hilton Hotels plucks". To the right of the phone, the text reads "The new travel app for iPhone® and iPod touch®". Below this, it says "Presented by: Hampton" with the Hampton logo. At the bottom right, a blue box contains the text "SEE HOW IT WORKS »".
